Foreword

Throughout the pages of this, the 1959 HACAWA, you, our college family and friends, will find a quality of newness. It is presented to you with hope and anxiety, humility and pride. We have endeavored to present the events of your year at college in the seasons in which you lived, loved and will remember them. At Lenoir Rhyne we have grown academically, spiritually, and socially. We have been shown the path to follow but have been given the right to choose.

The presentation of our theme was only made possible by you—the active beings of our campus. With a sincere feeling of gratitude for the experience we have had, the staff proudly, yet humbly, presents to you the 1959 HACAWA.

Dedication

Dean and Mrs. E. J. Sox

Without hesitation we dedicate our yearbook to two persons—one couple—who have been essential to our adjustment and achievement at Lenoir Rhyne College. We found this couple in religious work—we found them in community life—we found them in campus activities.

We are proud to dedicate the 1959 HACAWA to Dean and Mrs. E. J. Sox, who have given of their time, talent, energy and love to our Alma Mater.

President's Message

Of the many purposes your HACAWA will serve, it should remind you that life is a vast bundle of associations and relationships. This is true of college years, but it is equally true of every stage and station we reach. Through these relationships we are the recipients of innumerable blessings and benefits. No person is truly educated until he understands how he is constantly receiving from others and that his welfare is interwoven with theirs.

Gratitude, therefore, should be a major characteristic of life. Gratitude reaches its height only when it extends beyond human relationships and embraces Him from Whom all blessings flow and acknowledges with Paul that "I am debtor." When this conviction is genuine and deep it determines what we are and do. Lenoir Rhyne wants each of her sons and daughters to achieve the distinction of grateful living.

Student Government

The Student Government officers are elected in the spring by the Student Body. This group enforces the rules and regulations of Lenoir Rhyne's constitution and with the co-operation of the Student Cabinet makes this college a more democratic place in which to live and work. Left to right: Johnny Fisher, Vice-President; Alan LaTorre, President; and Frances Litaker, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Student Cabinet is the highest student authority, initiating and heading many projects. The cabinet is the link between the Administration and the Student Body that enables the co-operative student-faculty system.

This year the cabinet successfully organized orientation week and homecoming activities, sold blazers, arranged open houses after games, and sponsored campus campaigns and elections.

Student-Faculty Commission

The Student-Faculty Commission arranges the non-academic calendar and sets up the social rules and regulations of the campus students.

Organizations

Autumn brings to the campus students—personalities with talents and interests that seem as numerous as the leaves which float on the autumn winds. Yet, talents and interests are more lasting than the color of autumn leaves. They are things which cause students to seek ways for their development—ways which find freshmen puzzling in September over “how many” or “which ones” and upperclassmen planning “when,” “what,” and “where.” They lead to meetings, work on group projects and the honor of being an officer. When the world outside slows down and the sun gets lazier each day, they lead students inside to the unending activity of working always for a better world, a better school, a better self.

The Playmakers

Amateur actresses and actors presented the best Broadway shows with professional perfectibility. Professor George Spence enforced the rule, "Practice makes perfect," as he directed the group to success. Weeks and months of rehearsal were climaxed in such plays as "Harvey" and "The Robe."

Stage crews, publicity committees, directors, actors and actresses gave time, talent, and thought throughout this year to provide a high caliber entertainment for all.

Forensics

This year found Lenoir Rhyne's forensic-minded students again capturing laurels by coordinating their minds and voices in declaring, discussing, debating, proving, and expressing effectively their thoughts and feelings. Novice Kermit Turner displayed his talents at Wake Forest while veterans Judy Bittinger and Sybil Sharpe upheld Lenoir Rhyne's record at Appalachian. For the second time Mrs. Spence directed a successful South Atlantic Tournament. In a year crowded with thoughts of the scientific, nuclear weapons seemed an adequate topic for debate and Lenoir Rhyne debators put no limits on their voices to prove it.

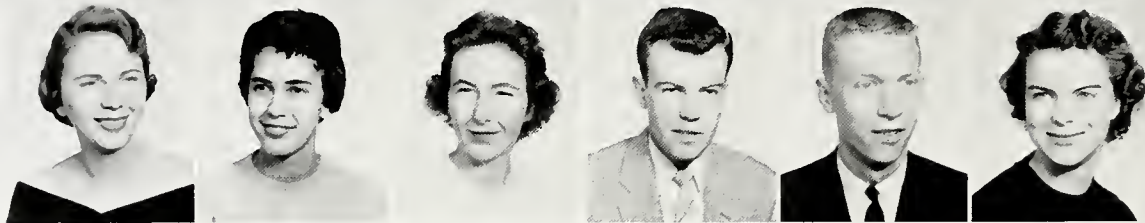

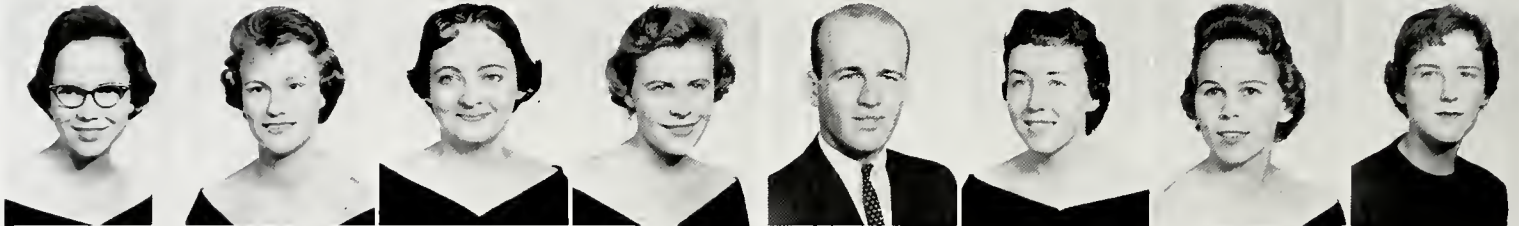

First row: Howell, Snyder, Ullman, Bittinger. Second row: Little, Cress, Kornegay, Turner, Roseman and Mrs. Spence.

Literary Society

Encouraging interest in the literary fields and giving students an opportunity for self-expression are goals of the Literary Society, one of the college's cultural organizations.

International Relations Club

By joining this club, students obtain a broader view of world affairs. Other countries, as well as international affairs, are discussed at their bi-monthly meetings.

Association for Childhood Education

Future elementary teachers gain invaluable experience through membership in this club. An annual event of A.C.E. is the Christmas program, which is presented by grammar school children.

Future Teachers of America

Members of the F.T.A., while becoming better acquainted with their profession, gain much practical experience in solving problems connected with teaching.

Music Club

Regardless of his major, any student interested in music may own membership in this club. Members exercise their musical talents and learn to appreciate better music.

Music Educators National Conference

Only those students planning to teach music belong to M.E.N.C. Keeping pace with music education's latest achievements is a main objective of the club.

Kampus Kats

Playing for campus events and dances at nearby colleges and towns, the Kampus Kats are known state-wide for their distinctive style and musical interpretation.

Circle K

Services to the community and college are the main purposes of this group which is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club. From it's motto, "I Build," Circle K shows its interest in building the character of youth.

Library Assistants

Attending to the circulation of books, shelving them, and helping students find special books are responsibilities ably taken care of by the women who serve as library assistants.

Dining Hall Workers

Waiting on tables and cleaning up after meals are responsibilities of the dining hall crew. Not only do these assistants wait on students, but also they are called on to serve for various organizations in Hickory.

Public Relations

Keeping the public up to date on happenings at the college is the chore of this little-recognized group. Publishing the Alumni Bulletin, sending out information about the college, and keeping L.R. in the limelight are their duties.

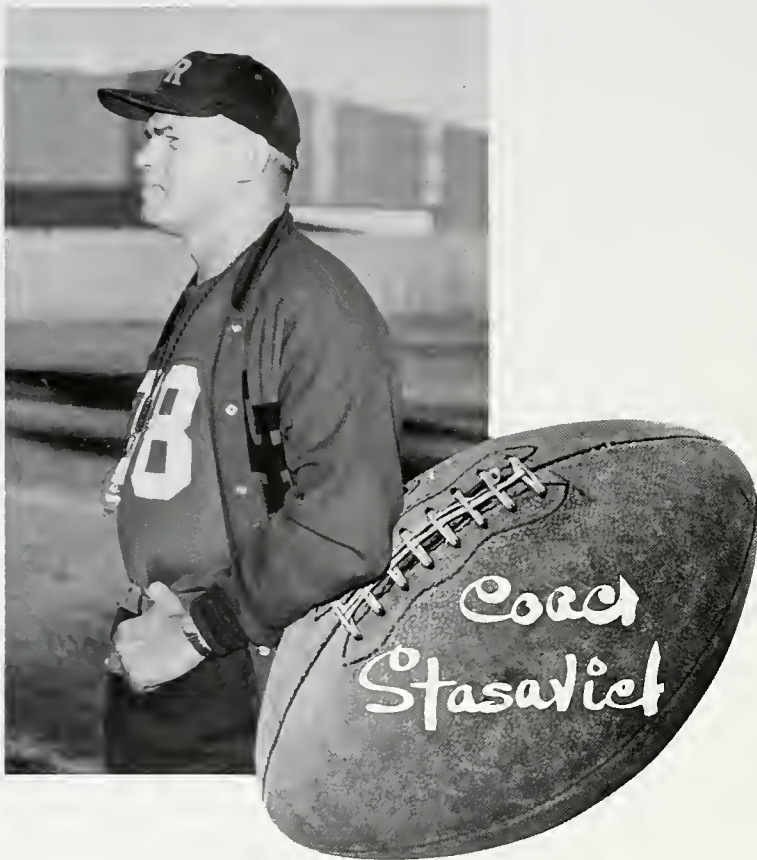

Maintenance Crew

"Custodians of the campus" is a title well-suited to the men who keep the campus and the dorms presentable at all times.

BEARS 20, WOFFORD 0

The Bears journeyed to Spartanburg, S. C. with revenge on their minds and upset the favored Terriers, while holding All-Americans Jerry Richardson and Charlie Bradshaw almost totally ineffective with a bruising defensive game. Bill Ackard tallied twice and Tommy Simmons once. The forward wall led by Bill Johnson and Joe Murphy held Wofford to only 89 yards through the air and on the ground.

BEARS 6, PRESBYTERIAN 8

The Blue Hose maintained their jinx over the Bears by almost completely controlling the contest while running from a winged-T formation. To say that the Bruins were flat would take too much away from the brilliant display of speed, power and agility displayed by Hose QB Bob Waters, and halfbacks Bob Pate and Tony Benson. Only momentary defensive brilliance by the Bears kept the score so low. Bill Ackard tallied the Bears score on a 68 yard punt return, the only real happy moment of the game for the losers.

LaTORRE

SIVES

BEARS 28, NEWBERRY 6

Ackard scored twice and completed seven of 11 passes for 112 yards and continued his pace-setting for the Bears. The Indians were virtually lost by the absence of six regulars due to injury. The Bears broke the backs of the Newberry defense with two third period markers and the Indians tallied their TD against Coach Stasavich's freshmen in the final two minutes.

WEBER

BEARS 28, APPALACHIAN 6

Fullback Lee Farmer broke the game wide open after being held in check by three opponents with 138 yards in 17 carries. A desperation fourth down pass netted the Apps their score in the first period after their ground game had been stymied on the five yard line. The Bears roared right back and took the lead with moments left in the half, 12-6, and then cinched the contest with two second half TD's.

Ackard highlighted the contest with a 47 yard return of an intercepted pass to score. Freshman Marcus Midgett and Tony McClamrock played outstanding games, Tony gaining 104 yards.

BEARS 36, WEST CAROLINA 30

The Bears won their third straight North State Conference game, by tallying 22 points in the fourth quarter and 14 in the final three minutes of the contest against W.C. Lee Farmer was the hero of the contest with 22 points scored for the night including the clincher with but 35 seconds remaining. Last minute glory of the Bears offset an almost phenomenal performance by WCC's Bobby Cooper who completed 9 of 10 passes for 129 yards. On two separate occasions the Bears needed three touchdowns to take the lead.

BEARS 66, MARYVILLE 7

A 200 mile journey proved plentiful for LR. With the reserves, mostly freshmen, playing three quarters of the contest, the Bears went on the rampage to stomp winless Maryville. Marcus Midgett, freshman wingback from Maiden, tallied twice on a 68 yard pass from McClamrock and a 66 yard run from scrimmage.

BEARS 59, EAST CAROLINA 14

The Pirates came to Hickory hoping to defeat the Bruins and move on in the loop race, but instead fell victim to the devastating single-wing attack of the Bruins. After scoring first, the Pirates were given a display of running and passing by Ackard, who crossed the double chalkmark from the 29 and the 7, and ended his blaze of glory with a 52 yard scamper through the entire visitors' backfield. He totaled 287 yards running and passing to take over the league lead in total offense. The win clinched a tie for the title.

BEARS 36, ELON 6

Number 4 title in succession was tucked comfortably into the Bruins pocket after this revenge win over the Christians at Burlington. Ackard was again the hero with 209 yards total offense and 16 points scored. The team which handed the locals their only loop defeat in 3 years of competition was no match for the enraged charges of Coach Stas. Farmer threw TD passes to Midgett and Frank Weber of 10 and 12 yards, respectively.

Freshman Wingback MARCUS MIDGETT is shown dodging the last Catawba player in his way as he scampered 75 yards with a punt to score against the Indians.

MANAGERS GEORGE REYNOLDS, JUNIOR BAUCOM

BILL ACKARD, Bear Tailback, is shown as he begins a 68 yard return of a punt for a touchdown against Presbyterian. The tally was the only one in an 8-6 loss to the Blue Hoze, the Bruins only loss of the year.

ADAM MAPLES heads downfield through several of Elon's fighting Christians after snaring a pass. Bears sewed up their 4th straight NSC title in a 36-6 win at Burlington.

LEE FARMER is shown circling Appalachian's left end for a long gain prior to the Bears' second TD in a 28-6 win.

Winter

. . . . From the rustle of leaves to the silence of snows—But the cold climate produces the bundling up with heavy flannels and sweaters—

. . . . The quiet outside fails to overlay the rumble of cramming for exams and basketball cheers—

Publishing a yearbook is Hard! To enclose all the memories of one year in college in one book of this size was our aim. The work has been enriching, fun, and difficult. We began with a dummy—filled in with words, ideas, pictures, and thoughts and many advertisements. There have been headaches, broken pencils, sleepless nights, worn-out typewriters, complainers, disappointments, fusses, thin sole shoes, and wonderful friendships made and sealed.

Yet, through all the pessimistic thoughts the happy memories of working on this annual will be uppermost in the minds of this staff. We hope you like this book of memories and will cherish it. We have made errors, and who doesn't? The entire HACAWA staff is thankful for the experience of living, knowing, and working with you for this, the 1959 HACAWA!

Some people call it a "nose for news" and others "journalism," but for one group of students it's the Lenoir Rhynean.

This year will be remembered for Joe's editorials on student government and for Susanne's hours of careful proofreading. Ruth and Libby were always out for those BIG "scoops," and Emil and John followed the Bears.

The reporters saw to it, usually, that the basket was full of copy, and with Linda's help the business and circulation departments ran smoothly. On Friday afternoon the staff discussed the head that was too short or the misspelled words while everybody else drank in the news. Always all was "for a greater Lenoir Rhyne."

Religion

"While the earth remains, seedtime and harvest, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, shall not cease."

There is something eternal in the seasons as they come and go—something which breathes of both death and life, of sorrow and joy, of tumult and peace, of the transient and the steadfast. Through spring's awakening, summer's growth, autumn's harvest, and winter's sleep the world goes on living, moving, resting, dying. Yet, greater and more beautiful than nature's cycle or man's imaginings is a power which knows no season, that power which knows even of the sparrow's fall, that love which embraces all things great and small. It is that power and that love which penetrate into our hearts, causing our voices to sing as children in every season. In the brightness of spring and the bleakness of winter we learn anew to sing of the majesty, the power, the glory of God.

Religious Council

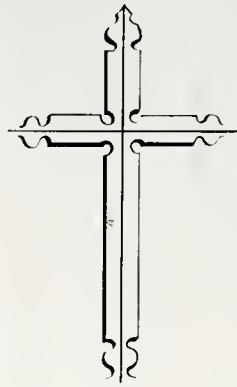

Serving as a nucleus of Christian activities, the Religious Council unites representatives from all campus religious groups in an effort which illustrates Christian oneness. This organization strives to strengthen and maintain Christian principles and ideals in serving the religious phase of the student's total college life. The Religious Council sponsors a Faith and Life Series and conducts monthly Student Services in the College Church. It sponsors the Campus Chest Drive, enabling the student body to contribute in a united appeal to the needs of the less fortunate.

Religious Groups

Lutheran Student Association

The Lutheran Student Association is a national organization composed of members of the various Lutheran bodies. The campus group, meeting every Sunday evening, provides an hour of Bible study, worship, and Christian fellowship. LSA members also participate in meetings with other college groups and regional meetings. Its primary objective is to encourage Christian education and strengthen the student's religious life. Becky Beatty served as LSA president.

Methodist Student Association

The Methodist Student Association is the fellowship which gives Methodist students the opportunity for participation in church functions while away from their home church. MSA members meet bi-monthly and encourage regular Sunday School and church attendance. Its purpose is to provide for spiritual, moral, and social needs of students. President, Lavon McCurry; Vice-President and Program Chairman, Norma Parham, Barbara Ross; Secretary-Treasurer, Judy Zimmerman.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union serves Baptist students through regular meetings, activities, and encouraging church attendance. Its activities are designed to foster Christian education, strengthen spiritual growth, and keep the Baptist student in contact with his church. Janice Robinson was this year's president.

College Sunday School

College Sunday School aids in strengthening the student's spiritual growth. Meeting every Sunday morning in the College Church, students study a lesson taught by students. Experiences gained at these times have provided spiritual enlightenment and valuable teaching opportunities for students of all denominations. Superintendent, Edward Counts; Assistant Superintendent, Ernest Brooks; Treasurer, Donna Poovey; Pianist, Barbara Deal.

Chapel

Midweek Chapel services are held in the College Church for all students. These Wednesday worship experiences aid in strengthening, enriching, and uniting the spiritual life of those attending. Guest ministers, usually from the surrounding areas, and college professors give the morning meditations and members of the a cappella choir provide music.

THE REV. ALBERT H. KECK
College Pastor

St. Andrew's Lutheran Church serves all students as the College Church. Its doors are always open to those wishing to worship. Many students join this church family while away from home by singing in the choir, regularly attending services and participating in other church functions.

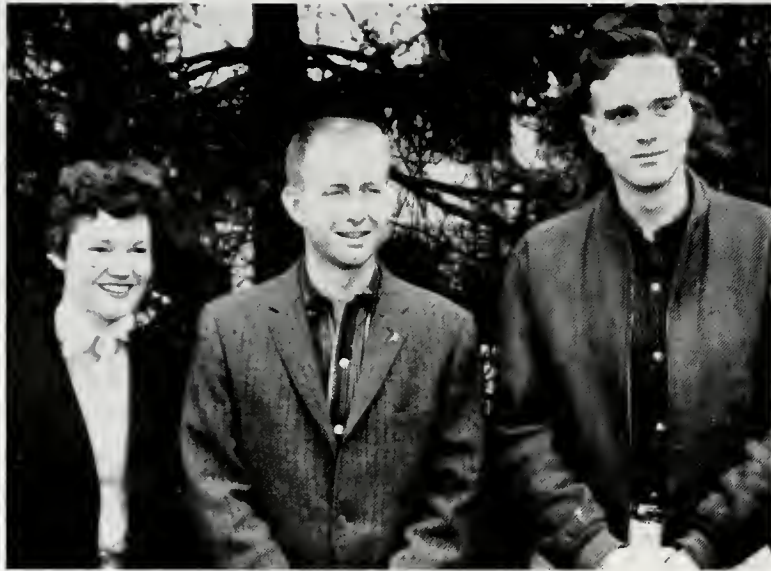

Greeks

From October's whispers of homecoming floats to May's busy efforts to capture the May Day Prize, there is always that earnest desire for the best for fraternity, for sorority, for college. But behind that ever present desire for the best is a bond which is greater than prizes and ribbons. There is that bond of friendship which makes it possible to face both triumph and defeat because we share them together. It is that bond which is found in the joy of an evening serenade and the confusion of learning a dance, in the anticipation of winning a first prize and the pride of taking second, in the brief happiness of sharing a joke and the lasting remembrances of old times and old friends. Whatever the letter or the crest, they stand for a bond of which we are proud.

Interfraternity Council

The Interfraternity Council, one of the campus 'power' groups in passing regulations concerning social activities, is composed of the presidents and representatives from each fraternity and sorority. The sixteen-member council, during 1958-'59, strove to initiate changes in the policies of social organizations, including the mandatory 82.0 scholastic average which must be attained by all pledges before initiation.

Sponsors of interfraternity outings, along with regular weekly meetings, the council settles matters which might arise between individual sororities and fraternities.

The first national fraternity to grace the Lenoir Rhyne campus, Kappa Sigma Kappa International was initiated in 1950. Paramount in the Kappa Sigma Kappa code of conduct are the ideals—integrity, scholarship, loyalty, leadership, social poise and physical fitness.

Kappa Sigs can remember 1958-59 for . . . refreshing jaunts to the lake to swim or ski . . . and parties at cabins . . . The "Autumn Song" dance with Miss Linda Davenport as Alpha's sweetheart . . . Homecoming gaiety and a "Cub Sacking Sac," the float . . . the rush party with the pledge class of '58-'59 . . . intramural basketball . . . pledge training . . . initiation . . . basketball games away from home and the tournament . . .

The annual "sing" at the unforgettable Sig Ep Ball.

The aims and ideals of Sigma Phi Epsilon are high. She strives to develop character and to create high moral standards among members; she offers a challenge for high scholastic, athletic, and social achievements. Sigma Phi Epsilon helps impress upon her members the need for fraternal relationship and the devotion to the institution to which they may belong.

The men wearing the "heart" have fond recollections . . . homecoming float—"Heart of My Heart" . . . the fall banquet . . . the Christmas dance . . . serenades . . . the joint outing with the other frats . . . the fraternity sweetheart—Miss Ruby Fisher . . . rushing and pledging . . . a brother who became Interfraternity Council prexy . . .

"The elements of true brotherhood are love, charity and esteem."

The Tekes of Delta Iota Chapter, guided by these virtues, worked together for a most successful 1958-59.

Working together in "the tie that binds," the men of Tau Kappa Epsilon busied themselves with winning intramural teams, selling football programs, renovating the Tekemobile, fixing the "new-look" on the TKE Victory Bell, and slaving on the Homecoming float, "Ring Out, Ring Out, Oh Flower of Victory."

The outing with the other Greeks, the Tekes' own mixed outing at the Pines, TKE's presentation of the Gladiolas, a pledge class of 27, and the crowning of the chapter sweetheart, Miss Betsy Henry, graced the social life of the fraters.

This is the Teke's fifth year as a national organization . . . and one of the most productive.

TKE's beautiful float with the opening and closing flower of pink was a sight to behold. Sweethearts of the brothers graced the float, adding more beauty.

Homecoming would be incomplete without the TKE mobile!

EDGAR TREXLER

"Trex" is surrounded by beauties, Miss N. C. Betty Evans, and former title holder, Faye Arnold Broyhill, at the tea for Theta Chi members, their dates, and families held after the homecoming parade.

Adhering to their motto of "Alma Mater First; Theta Chi for Alma Mater," the men of Delta Chi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity annually find brotherhood through participation in campus and fraternal activities. The largest campus fraternity—more than 50 members—the men of red and white saw many honors come their way during the 1958-59 term.

Once again the brothers copped first place for the 'most beautiful' fraternity float in the homecoming parade, featuring "Honey for the Bears," and sponsoring Miss N. C. Owners of the highest fraternity scholastic average for the third straight year was another highlight of the year.

Theta Chi brothers remember other impressionable moments . . . The Dream Girl, Sally Koppen, who became "Miss Lenoir Rhyne" . . . "Valentine Fantasy," the big dance with the tree of hearts . . . outings, stag and drag . . . serenades . . . new adviser, Prof. Kenneth Lee . . . the "Crewnecks," seven Theta Chis who made a world tour . . . making signs for the pep parades . . . all memories of a Theta Chi year to remember.

Cheerleaders

A carefree group who are often Lenoir Rhyne's ambassadors, the cheerleaders can recall joyous moments of cheering the athletic teams' endeavors. The scramble with the 'Bear Hung in Effigy' at Catawba . . . the swiped Confederate flag . . . leading the pep parade downtown . . . the helplessness of the Western Carolina-L.R. brawl . . . and the many open houses and meeting new friends. Their job was large, but they were ready for it!

COACH BILL WELLS

MANAGERS GEORGE REYNOLDS, WORTH WELLS

Basketball 1959

After a successful season in the North State Conference, Lenoir Rhyne's Bears reached their peak in representing District 26 in the National Basketball Finals in Kansas City. The charges of Coach Bill Wells reached the quarterfinals before bowing to Southwest Texas State, but not before handing the only undefeated small college team in the nation, Grambling of Louisiana, a ten-point defeat. The Bears took second place in the North State play.

For the second straight year, All-Conference Dick Whitis paced the Bruin scoring, this year with an even 18.0 average. Backcourt ace and captain Tommy Sellari pleased fans with his ball handling and was second high in rebounding. In addition to Whitis and Sellari, Ken Norman, newcomer Joe Ladd and guard Billy Reece scored in the double figures. Returnees next year should compile a record equal to the 23-5 mark of this year's crew, and help improve Coach Wells' lifetime record of 47 wins and eight losses.

Kneeling: Coach Wells, Manager Reynolds. First row: Schley, McCormick, Huffman, Sellari, James, Kilby, Goodnight. Second row: Bowman, Norman, Whitis, Ladd, Smith, Harrington, Reece.

You can easily foresee the outcome of this game as a Bear fan dozes during the 90-67 conquest of Wofford.

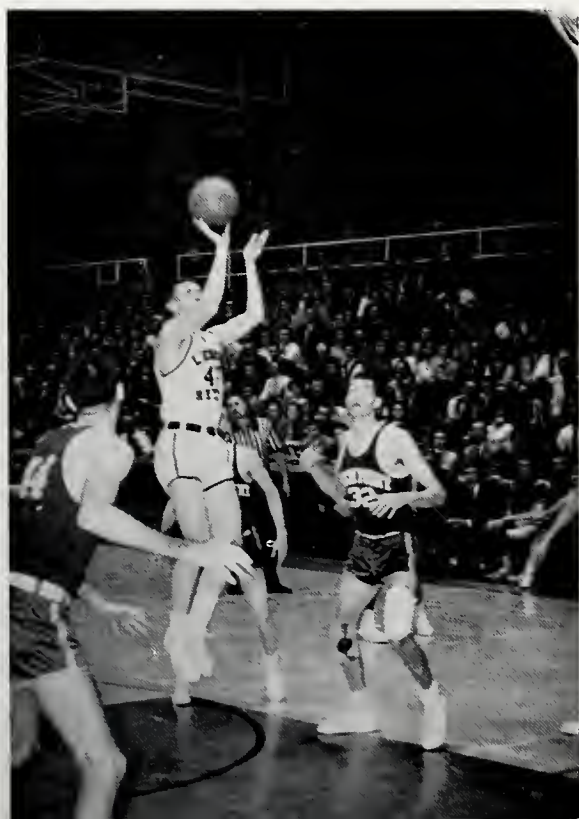

James pulls down a rebound against Pfeiffer. Bowman gives teammate aid.

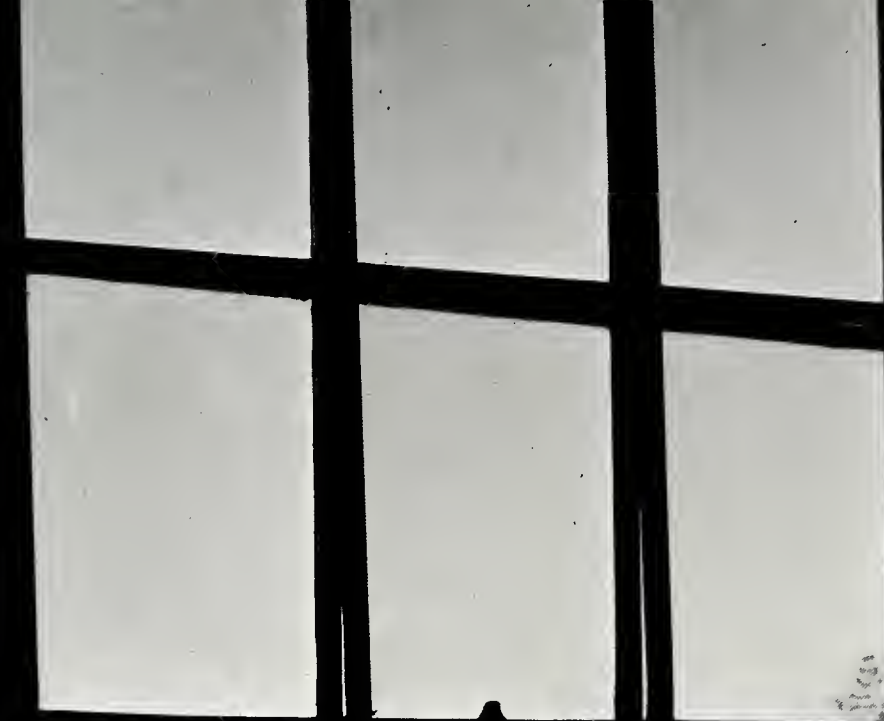

Ken Norman, Bear forward, attempts to dribble around an ASTC player in their clash at Boone. Bears won, 74-45.

Bill Reece (42) makes good on a jump shot in the "must" 66-60 win over High Point.

Tommy Sellari (30) makes an easy lay-up in the Bears' romp over ASTC at Boone.

1958 was a mediocre season for the diamond men of Coach Hanley Painter who tutored the bat and glove men for the second year. Finishing the season with a 10-7 record overall and an 8-5 North State mark, the Bears were victimized by two things, rain and errors. On 13 occasions, a contest was called off because of rain, including return engagements with Davidson, Guilford, and Belmont Abbey which were cancelled at the end of the campaign.

The Bears were fourth in the North State loop, losing all five loop contests to the three teams above them, two to Catawba and Elon and one to East Carolina. Three of these losses were by 2-1 scores.

Freshman Lee Farmer, third baseman, led the team in hitting with a .302 average.

Fox and freshman moundsmen Herman Starrette and Junior Baucom were selected on the All-Conference team, with Fox, Starrette and Farmer winning berths on the All-District 26 NAIA squad.

Bear hurler Herman Starrette is shown taking a third strike in the ASTC game. Bears won 12-3.

Lettermen's Club

Officers: Murphy, Leonhardt, Reynolds, Fisher, and McCrorie.

An organization which honors college men who have earned a letter in any of the five intercollegiate sports, the Lettermen's Club has as its ideal the fostering of better relationships between other competitive institutions, plus contributions to wider student participation in athletic activities. As a unit, the Lettermen's Club supports other Lenoir Rhyne activities and senses the personal obligation to set an example of the ideals for which the group stands.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association offers every girl at L.R. a chance to participate in a variety of sports throughout the year. With the facilities of Cline Gymnasium the activities of this group have become stronger and more beneficial. Dr. Clyde Deans acts as guidance counselor of this organization and it is under her fine leadership that the women of Lenoir Rhyne have proved that they do have a place in the sports world. The aim of every member is to become a better person physically, mentally, emotionally, and socially.

Referee Frank Weber stands in bewilderment as all hands wait on the ball!

Badminton could always be a joy, if Emily Fritz and Pat Slane were the challengers.

Jane Pope shoots and hits while two Sacred Heart players stand helpless.

Pope is again high in the air adding to the score that gave the L.R. girls a win over Sacred Heart.

Intramural

Brothers of Theta Chi Fraternity walked off with season intramural honors during 1957-58 for the first time in its history.

After taking second-place laurels for several years, the men of Red and White amassed a total of 640 points, more than 100 points ahead of the nearest competitor.

Summer

- . . . From balminess to the hot rays of Ol' Sol—and some walk down the auditorium aisle to receive honors—
- . . . Outdoor sports come in prominence every afternoon with many unable to find a vacant tennis court or a ride to the lake—
- . . . Graduates and parents intermingle as do feelings of joy and sorrow—
- . . . The glamour gone, only the facts of a job . . . or military duty . . . or graduate school . . . or marriage . . . await the seniors on their day.

DON'T GAMBLE

With Your Eyes

Color and intensity of light affect us in many different ways. With proper light, we read quicker—more intently. We are fresher, have better dispositions—we “insure” our vision.

Planned light is economical, enjoy its luxury often.
